WTSU pres. quest marks year

Business boomed, housing construction expanded and West Texas State University turned a corner in its development and growth. It was a good year.

The year 1973 blossomed forth in Canyon with little accolade and stepped into the spotlight of controversy as the major focus of public interest focused on events surrounding the selection of a new president for West Texas State University. The selection process took virtually the next six months.

But, while one eye might rest on the university leadership, Canyon residents were also busy during the year taking care of a massive wheat crop, seeing youngsters through school and enjoying the changes in seasons.

This, then, is 1973, in brief review:

JANUARY — As the new year opened so did the quest for a new president for WTSU unfold before the public. The News announces that a reliable source said the next university president would be on the campus by Sept. 1. An announcement on the selection process for a successor to Dr. James P. Cornette, was expected in mid-January.

But, rather than receiving that announcement, a News reporter receives the sharp tongue of WTSU Regent Chairman Cloyce K. Box, who profanely denies that a secret committee to screen applicants for the presidency exists. Concurrently, the News receives information from a source that several area leaders and university faculty and administrators have been named to the secret committee.

Later in the month, three university regents confirm the existence of a secret screening committee to review applicants for the president's seat. Regents Jim Jenkins, Donald Curry and B. Raymond Evans tell The News the committee existed and named those on the committee.

The News also learns that three members of the selection committee have met with three regents in Amarillo to discuss their selection.

As the month closes, Box admits the committee exists as the university public information office issues a press release on the committee membership.

Early in the month, city commissioners agree to meet with representatives of HD&R architectural firm of Dallas to review architectural and engineering plans for a new city hall complex. The initial step in the process is to be a feasibility study on what kind of building with what kind of furnishings was needed.

A group of local businessmen who had waited for more than four years to be paid by the state Department of Parks and Wildlife for debts owed when a former Palo Duro Canyon State Park manager charged items to their businesses was fired in 1967 again seek the money from the state. They call on State Rep. Bryan Poff to seek the money from the department. Fifteen businesses are owed almost $3000 by the former park manager.

West Texas State University's enrollment drops to below 6000 students for the spring term. It is the first regular term since the middle 1960s that the university enrollment has dipped below the 6000 mark.

County commissioners indicate initial approval of a proposed $21,000 package deal from the WTSU computer center for computerization of the county tax rolls.

The Vietnam War ends and the News learns that five local men died in the decade-long war. Local citizens express elation over the final halt to the conflict.

County commissioners are asked to purchase a $33,000 fire truck for the city of Canyon to use in fighting primarily rural fires. Commissioners table the request and their action leads to a months-long conflict with the city commission.

FEBRUARY — County commissioners decide to seek bids on a computer system for the tax rolls. Dist. Atty. George Dowlen suggests that bids should be sought for the system.

The Moody Foundation pledges $250,000 toward construction of a new Fine Arts complex on the WTSU campus. Dr. John Green, dean of the school of fine arts, says the money is a first step toward erection of a new center on the campus.

Canyon Jaycees, newly organized, appear before the city commission with a plan they've prepared to correct the traffic congestion problem on 23rd Street in the city. The Jaycees say they have coordinated their plan with the Texas Highway Department. Commissioners table the request.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. informs City Manager George Loudder that the company's phone rates for city residents will be increased. City officials, recognizing that the city commission has regulatory power over the phone company's rate structure, question the legality of the move. Bell officials say the hike is in line with a city charter clause.

The Canyon Girl Eagles win the regional championship from the Stephenville Honeybees for their fifth consecutive regional championship. They take the win 79-49 in a Sweetwater game.

Local car dealer Eddie Knowles is named Canyon's citizen of the year by the Chamber of Commerce. Knowles served two terms as president of the chamber and five years as a director.

Bid for computer work on the county tax rolls goes to the WTSU computer center for a maximum of $21,000. The WTSU bid is the only one received.

A request by City Commissioner Willis Harrison that his property on 4th Avenue be rezoned from multi-family to commercial raises the ire of adjacent property owners, who vow to appear before the city planning and zoning commission to fight the passage.

Southwestern Bell officials withdraw their request for a rate hike after city and phone company officials meet.

Commissioner Harrison withdraws his rezoning request and his actions are defended in a zoning board meeting, attended by about 30 property owners, by board chairman Clarence E. Thompson.

The Girl Eagles lose the state crown in the state tournament in Austin to the Angleton Wildcats 57-55.

MARCH — The News learns that a petition to have 11½ sections of land in the Canyon School District annexed into the Amarillo district is contemplated. Amarillo school board officials have been contacting members of the Randall County board of school trustees to learn their reactions to the annexation. But, Canyon board members say they have not been informed of the possibility of annexation or a petition.

County Agent John Brazzil believes 1973 will be a banner year for the county wheat crop. Good moisture throughout the winter along with a release of lands under federal programs combine to raise hopes for the year's crops.

Five Panhandle legislators, Ben Bynum, Phil Cates, Dean Cobb, Bill Clayton and Bill Heatly, say they believe Dr. T. Paige Carruth, vice president for student affairs, should be the next president of WTSU. A letter signed by the five goes to university regents and members of the screening committee.

City commissioners approve an increase in rates for the telephone company and give initial approval to a plan by Chief of Police Al Stewart for left-turn lane installation on 23rd Street. The plan supplants a plan recommended by the Canyon Jaycees.

University regents, meeting in Dallas, go behind closed doors to begin considering 80 applicants for the university presidency. Chairman Box outlines a three-step selection procedure to give all segments of the university community a part in the process.

Donna Stark, 18-year-old senior at Canyon High School, is crowned Miss Canyon following a review by judges of 48 candidates.

Merritt Equipment Co. announces it will build a $2 million manufacturing plant north of Canyon in Randall County.

T. Boone Pickens of Amarillo announces his resignation from the university board of regents. Pickens says conflict with Box causes the resignation. Later, three other regents deny there is any split on the board or any conflict with Box.

APRIL — Dr. J. Pat Stephens, WTSU government professor, is elected to the city commission, winning over incumbent Felix Pierce. Willis Harrison is also returned to a seat on the commission after running unopposed.

WTSU Regents, meeting in Austin, eye about 20 applicants and release the names and vitae on each of more than 200 applicants for the presidency. They also meet with Bill Hobby and Price Daniel Jr. on appropriations problems at the university.

Incumbents Richard Pruett and Harold Erwin win re-election to the Canyon School Board and George Blackwell is named to the South Randall County Hospital District board.

One of Canyon's oldest businesses, Warren's department store, closes its doors and the business is sold to a Dallas firm.

One of the blowingest winds in Canyon recorded history whips through the county with speeds hitting in excess of 100 miles per hour. The high wind overturns mobile homes, damages buildings and uproots crops.

Teresa Engler, with an average of 97.65, leads the graduating class of Canyon High School. Sharon Lumry, with 96.54, is salutatorian.

MAY — WTSU professors join other political pundits around

'Constitution' Number Given

A statewide tollfree telephone line which enables Texans all over the state to ask questions and offer suggestions on constitutional revision will continue to operate during the 1974 Constitutional Convention.

The telephone number is 1-800-292-9600.

The Texas Constitutional Information Center was originally established by the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission as part of its charge to inform the public of its activities.

The telephone line has averaged a high volume of calls from citizens with questions about the constitutional revision process or the Commission's proposed new Constitution for Texas.

During the first month of its existence, between November 15 and December 15, the center received an average of 48 calls on each working day. The number of calls ranged from a low of 15 on the first day of operation to a high of 143.

The information center will continue to operate 24 hours a day. It will be manned by staff during the daytime and calls at night will be recorded for answers later.

Information Center staff is equipped to answer many of the questions asked. Other questions will be referred to appropriate Convention research staff for written answers.

The Constitutional Revision Commission found the Information Center valuable in accurately answering citizen questions and receiving suggestions from those wishing to help with the Constitution.

Callers to date have included a broad cross-section of Texans — university professors interested in teaching material, lawyers trying to clear up technical questions, students writing papers on constitutional revision and a great number of citizens concerned about how a new Constitution would affect their lives.

The Convention Information Center will be located in the Convention Public Information Office in the Capitol.

The number will continue to be 1-800-292-9600.

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

I hope this turns out to be a bad year for thieves, murderers and robbers.

I have written about armed robberies and murders as a police reporter for more than 20 years and it has been only the past few days that I have really come to appreciate the plight of the victim.

I WAS the victim.

I had just stepped out of the Cross Timbers Restaurant in Amarillo when I was accosted by a man whom I at first thought was joking. He told me to put up my hands.

I thought it was one of the waiters. I know most of them because they are West Texas State University students and some of them are drama majors.

I laughed and right there I found out that my situation was something less then humorous if not downright perilous.

The man told me again to "put up your hands or I'll blow your head off." His hands were shaking and I knew then he could kill me accidentally.

It was not until last week that I learned I was up against a cold blooded killer. He took my billfold and made me lie face down on the pavement which I did for some minutes.

In the meantime the restaurant hostess, Mrs. Doug Laramore, wife of a WT music major who is also a waiter there, saw the robbery in progress and called police.

In a few minutes they swarmed over the place but the robber was gone.

Something like two weeks ago a pair was caught in Louisiana and they confessed to having robbed an editor in Amarillo. As far as I know I am the only recent victim of a robbery in Amarillo who fits that description.

The thugs also told Louisiana officers they had murdered another robbery victim who tried to run. They quoted one of the killers as having said: "It felt so good I couldn't take my hand off the trigger. I shot him five times."

Police in Amarillo believe the body of the victim may have been in the trunk of the crooks' car at the time they were lifting my wallet. I only saw one man at the scene of the robbery.

Police say he had a partner and that both were narcotics addicts. They got $75 from me, less than enough to feed a heroin monkey less than a day.

Detective Richards of the Amarillo police department says heroin for one addict often costs as much as $100 a day.

The two thugs told Louisiana officers they buried the dead man in Oklahoma. Sooner officers found the body.

I hope it is not a quest for personal vengeance that prompts me to say I hope these two get the chair for their deeds. Chances of reforming them are next to nil. They are a cancerous growth on society and should be cut out NOW.

Amarillo officers say there were more than 100 armed robberies in that city last year and that some 90 per cent were narcotics oriented. They also say that youngsters they were handling three years ago on marijuana charges are now being handled for the hard stuff.

In light of this sinister information how can intelligent people even consider legalizing grass?

11 County Offices Are Up For Grabs

Eleven offices in the county courthouse are up for grabs in elections this year, but a new state election law may give some potential candidates second thoughts about tossing their hats into the ring.

Already three Randall County office-holders have announced they will seek re-election. County Judge Woody Pond was the first to announce he will seek another term in office.

The two county justices of the peace, W. A. Wilson and W. W. Hancock announced this week they will seek another term.

No outside candidates have announced for any office.

Offices open for candidates this year are those of county judge with a salary of $10,761; county clerk with a salary of $9811; justices of the peace with salaries of $8469; county surveyor with salary paid from fees; district clerk with a salary of $9811; county treasurer with a salary of $8355; district attorney; county commissioners precincts 2 and 4.

Current County Clerk is LeRoy Hutton. County surveyor is John Dorsey, District Clerk is LaQuitta Polvadore. County Treasurer is Mrs. Ruth Hill. District Attorney is George Dowlen. Commissioners whose offices are open this year are Bill Butler and John Fulgenzi.

Deadline for filing for election is the first week in February in the county clerk's office.

Candidates for election or re-election will find a sheaf of blank forms to fill out when they file for the contest with Hutton, forms required of the new campaign contributions and expenditures law.

The new law says candidates must file written designations of their campaign managers, keep accurate records of contributions and expenditures including the complete name, address, date and amount of contributions and expenditures in excess of $10, and file other sworn statements.

The law extends to candidates in every election, including local city elections.

The law also states that if a contributor gives more than $100 to a candidate, it is the contributor's responsibility to ensure the contribution is reported or he is open to punishment under the law.

The new law outlines the expenditures which may validly be made under the law for political campaigns and enumerates the campaign activities which cannot be funded.

It also outlines penalties for going contrary to the law.

Wilson, Hancock Say They 'll Run For Offices

Two long-time Randall County justices of the peace announced they will seek re-election this week.

W.A. "Bill" Wilson of precinct 1 and W.W. Hancock of precinct 4 announced they will run for another four-year term of office.

Wilson, whose office is in the Canyon courthouse, has been justice of the peace 13 years. Hancock, who serves the South Amarillo precinct, has been in the office since 1963. Both are Democrats.

"I just want to announce my candidacy and let my back record speak for itself," Hancock said. "I'm running on my record for the past 11 years."

Hancock, who lives at 8600 S. Western in Amarillo, is married and has one son.

Wilson, who lives east of Canyon, has been a long-time employee in law enforcement.

Prior to serving as justice of the peace, he was a member of the Randall County sheriff's office. Earlier he was associated with his brother in the dairy business east of Canyon.

A graduate of Amarillo High School, Wilson joined the Amarillo Police Department for several years before joining the U.S. Navy to serve in the European Theatre during World War II. He returned to the police department and served until 1947 when he moved to Randall County.

Wilson is a director of the United Peace Officers Association, a group which aids Boys Ranch, and is past director of the Justice of the Peace and Constable Association. He is past president and past deputy district governor of District 2T-1 of the Lions Club.

He was named Canyon's outstanding citizen in 1961 by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. He is also a past director of the Randall County Junior Livestock Association.

Reflecting on the functions of his office, Wilson said "I feel that it is my obligation to the people to conduct my office in a business-like manner keeping in mind that it is my primary responsibility to be fair and impartial in all matters which come before me. Another function of my office is to exhibit to the youth of our community the fact that they must respect the laws of this state and also be educated that fairness and equality are the cornerstone of our legal system."

Wilson and his wife, Ina Mae, have three married children.

County Man Jailed On Bookie Charge

One Randall County resident was among six persons arrested Tuesday in the biggest raid on alleged bookie operations in Amarillo's history.

Glenn T. Moore of 4304 Ridgecrest in Amarillo is charged with bookmaking, a felony offense the punishment for which upon conviction is two to five years in the penitentiary.

Moore remained at the Amarillo Police Department jail Wednesday awaiting transport to Canyon for arraignment before a justice of the peace.

Members of the Randall County sheriff's department, Amarillo Police Department and Potter County sheriff's department joined with the Metro Intelligence Unit to make the six raids throughout the early part of the day Tuesday in Amarillo.

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said the Metro unit was responsible for gathering the information which led to the arrests.

"Because of the nature of bookie operations it is virtually impossible to successfully hit a number of them at the same time," he said.

Dowlen said the unit had worked over the past two years to accumulate information on bookie operations in Amarillo.

"In November of 1972, they recruited an applicant from the Amarillo Police Department who had law enforcement experience in another state to begin to associate in the places that were gamblers' hangouts," he said. "After a few months, the officer had gained the confidence of the gamblers and originally began betting on baseball games with a few of them.

"After he had made a sufficient number of cases with these bookies, he cultivated an acquaintance with other bookies and began to bet with them."

While working undercover, the officer worked as a bricklayer and part-time bartender in one of the Amarillo bars known as a hangout for gamblers.

Prior to the arrests on Tuesday, Potter County Dist. Atty. Tom Curtis and members of the Metro Unit met with Dowlen Monday at his Canyon office to prepare the paperwork for the raids.

Dowlen said the raids also turned up a volume of betting gear, including a master book containing the names of bettors, bets and code numbers.

He said while his office has no plans now to file charges against the bettors listed in the book, it is a possibility the Internal Revenue Service might file civil charges against them to recover tax money which gamblers are required to pay on bets.

The tax amounts to 10 per cent of the bet made, he said.

Assembly Of God Church Presents Film

"To Russia With Love," an exciting and informative film, with actual behind-the-scenes shots taken in Russia, reveals the life today for many thousands of Christians in the Communist world. The film, sponsored by Underground Evangelism, is scheduled for presentation in Canyon at 7 p.m. Sunday in the Canyon Assembly of God Church. Rev. A. J. Pettit, pastor of the church, extends an invitation to the public to view the film.

Some highlights of the film will include actual scenes taken during worship services at an underground church and an actual border crossing depicting Underground Evangelism's Bible smuggling ministry.

To avoid detection, the photographer from Underground Evangelism used a minimum of equipment and tried to blend in with the tourist element. The end result is a revealing film dealing with the hunger for the Word of God in a land of multiple closed churches and the lengths these Christians go to for their worship.

Resident's Niece Dies

Funeral services are pending for Mrs. Viola Peterson, niece of Mrs. Arthur Olson of Canyon. Mrs. Peterson died Tuesday in San Diego, Calif.

It's Gotta Be A Better Year

By TROYCE MULHERIN

IT'S - GOTTA - BE A BETTER YEAR Greetings:

ACTUALLY LAST YEAR wasn't half bad, though. Am thankful to have lived through it. Am thankful for the old (no pun intended) friends who hung in there for the duration. Am thankful for new friends and acquaintances. Gratefully appreciative of those who forgave any trespasses and boo boo's inadvertently sent their way. Am thankful for a patient, loving family. Am thankful for gift exchange lines(?) Am thankful for the good times. Thankful for the bad times, cause they made the good times so much more important and memorable.

Am thankful for you readers.

A NEW YEAR — a fresh slate. A few sturdy types have been conscientiously compiling resolutions. Will share some with you; and, if you haven't given this annual task much attention, perhaps you will be able to adopt one (or several — as the need may dictate) one of these. Resolved: (By someone. As promised, no names will be named.) To lose weight. To get up earlier. To be more patient. To find the bottom of the closet. To work harder. To be better organized. To stop nagging. To put a stop to the pet population explosion at home. To eat less. Quit smoking. Engage faithfully in an exercise program.

HOW ABOUT: MAKING the kids wear clean socks every day. Conserving gas and electricity. Cleaning the fish tank. Cooking at least one decent meal every week. Trying a smile before the first cup of coffee each morning, as well as after. Putting a stop to the nail chewing. Cleaning out the garage. Eating more. Dusting the light bulbs. Vacuuming under the furniture. Being on time. Finding homes for three absolutely adorable puppies, (Call 355-5429). Catching up on the ironing bit. Cleaning out all the cabinets. Catching an eighteen inch trout. Finishing last year's projects before starting any new ones.

OBVIOUSLY, SOME OF these resolution makers are already so in command of their everyday lives, they don't need resolutions. Some might seek improvement in certain areas. This is the crowd someone you know travels with!

ONE RESOLUTION EVERYONE in Gene Howe Land might consider: Calling 352-6053. No Calls — No News — No News — No Gene Howe News. Reasonable, eh what?

BEGIN THE NEW year with a swift and sure start and keep up the momentum and the enthusiasm!

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall.

Seminar Effects Used

The results of a West Texas State University government seminar are being used by a state representative to push for inclusion of provisions for recall, initiative and referendum in the proposed Texas constitution.

Rep. Buddy Temple of Diboll is campaigning to have the three devices placed in the constitution and is using a study report compiled by a graduate seminar at the university last summer under the direction of Dr. Travis McBride, head of the political science department.

Temple said he believes the inclusion of the three devices "would give the citizens of Texas methods to directly participate in the lawmaking process if it were to become necessary due to inaction of the Legislature."

The study report Temple is circulating with his material comes from the WTSU seminar, which McBride said spent weeks compiling information on states which have the devices included in their constitutions.

The report was originally requested by the Texas Constitution Revision Commission and was submitted to the commission through Amarillo member Wales Madden Jr.

McBride said the study indicated that of the states which provide for recall, referendum and initiative "no state that has it wants to get rid of it."

But, members of the seminar, after compiling their report, were unable to decide among themselves whether the devices should or should not be included in a Texas basic document.

The study report outlines definitions of the three devices, explains the states which use them and to what extent and poses the argument for and against the use of the devices.

Initiative is "a device by which any person or group of persons may draft a proposed ordinance, law or constitutional amendment and by securing in its behalf a designated number of signatures may require that such proposal be submitted to the voters for their acceptance or rejection."

The referendum is "an arrangement whereby any measure which has been passed by a city council or state legislature may under certain circumstances be withheld from going into force until the voters have had an opportunity to render their decisions upon it."

The recall is "a device whereby the people, by petition, may order a special election to determine whether a certain public official should continue in office or be immediately removed."

Open Meet Law In Effect Tues.

A new law which provides penalties for public officials who hold meetings without public notice went into effect Tuesday.

The open meetings law provides punishment for officials and on conviction makes punishment a fine not more than $500 or imprisonment in county jail for not less than one month nor more than six months.

The law broadens a previous law which listed categories of business governmental entities could discuss behind closed doors.

Happy New Year-Here Is A Brand New Year

By MARY NEAL HENRY

HAPPY NEW YEAR: Here for you is a brand new year, 365 brand new days, given you one at a time. You cannot spend more than twenty-four hours in each, nor can you draw on the future. Time is a savings account doled out minute by minute, hour by hour. How are you spending yours? Yes, today is the first day of the rest of our lives. Are you pleased with the progress of the day? If not, I suggest that you do something kind today for someone.

MRS. STONE COPE had a family Christmas gathering in her home on Christmas Day. Merle Taylor of Plainview was there. And so were Wauwayne and Wayne Cope and their Denise, Susan and Bill; Tommy Taylor and his wife, Alice and son, Monty of Amarillo; Charles and Dorothy Findley and their David (the only child they have left at home) of Loraine, Tex.; and Gary and Sue Findley and their Shawn, of Hamlin, Tex. Gary is Dorothy's oldest son and is an Ag teacher in Hamlin.

PHYLLIS AND MELVIN Bradley and their Chris of Gruver, were included in Price and Hattie Bradley's Christmas Eve family gathering and then spent Christmas Day at Annie and Bert Lemmons in Happy. Johnny and Lynn Lemmons and their Blaine and Cody of Seminole were also there.

MARY KATE (DENNY) and Lester McLain and their eleven year old daughter, Nickie, and eight year old son, Denny, returned to Orange, Calif., last Sunday after having spent Christmas holidays with Tootsie and George Denny near Wayside.

THELMA AND B. Raymond Evans with grandson, Evan, dropped in for a Christmas morning visit with Ruby and Forrest Vise.

PAT AND ORRELL Vise and their ten year old Elana, eight year old Stephanie and six year old Andrea from Canyon arrived later at Ruby and Forrest Vise's and spent Christmas Day. All returned to Canyon Christmas night but Stephanie. Stephanie stayed two nights with her grandparents in Happy.

PEARL BOONE OF San Angelo visited with us and with Bob and Della Henry of Canyon during the holidays. She is moving her mobile home to San Angelo from this area today and will now be permanently located there.

THERE JUST AREN'T enough days of Christmas for some families. The Whites had their Christmas on Saturday night at the Happy Jaycee Hall. The Johnson family had a Christmas gathering on Sunday.

HAPPY HIGH SCHOOL recently awarded these honors at their annual Christmas Banquet: Freshmen Class Favorites: Kim McCaslin and J. T. Henry; Sophomore Class Favorites: Valerie Tipps and Richard SoRelle; Junior Class Favorites, Amy Wallace and Steve Crabtree; Senior Class Favorites, Karen Hinton and Bobby Moudy; and Campus Favorites were Jana Wallace and Bobby Moudy. The wittiest were Amy Wallace and Sonny Box. Most Beautiful was Valerie Tipps. And Most Handsome was Tommy Tipps.

THE SHARRELL SELVIDGE family is moving to Minitare, Neb., where Sharrell will be working in feedlot management. Minitare is only a few miles from Scotts Bluff.

THE RONNIE JOHNSON family moved into their new home West of Happy last week.

PEGGY AND M.L. McGehee have begun plans to remodel the huge old McGehee house near Wayside. The age of this house goes back almost to the turn of the century.

THE EUGENE JACKSON family traveled to Nebraska for part of the holidays.

PHOEBE, PAULA, SHANNON and Shaun Heil stayed on in Follett last week-end during the holiday season. Brother Paul returned for the Sunday services in Happy. Only when school is out can they enjoy extra time with family and old friends.

KAY AND LEMAR Elliott's baby girl was in the church nursery on Sunday morning and she is a beautiful child.

ANNE MCMANIGAL IS "home" for the holidays from California.

JEAN ANN ROWELL of Tulia was a visitor in our department on Sunday morning. She is the granddaughter of Anna Mae and Hobart McManigal.

BRO. AND MRS. John Staat of Hidden Falls Ranch were guests on Sunday morning in Happy's First Baptist Church.

THE FAMILIES OF Larry Don Stevens and Wayne Stevens were also there. Terry Stevens is a frequent visitor of our church. But then with Barry Stevens as our music director... We feel most lucky and blessed!

MR. AND MRS. Lawrence Brown and their Greg of Lincoln, Neb., visited the Wrights over the week-end. They were on their way to the Cotton Bowl.

RUBE AND THELMA Wesley spent the week-end with Pauline and Woodrow Wesley. Rube and Thelma are from Abernathy.

ALBERT SCHOENENBERGER RIDING north on highway 87 on his motorcycle collided with Posey Bonds' pick-up as Posey turned into Consumers Service Station. Albert was taken to Neblett Hospital and then on to Northwest Texas. He has a fractured leg and multiple bruises and abrasions. Albert is a 1973 graduate of Happy High.

N. F. (SHORTY) JOHNSON, who lives southwest of Happy, had a heart attack on Thursday evening of last week. Shorty is in Swisher County Hospital and steadily improving. They may even have him in a room by the time you read this.

JO ELLEN HARVEY has been in St. Anthony's hospital since the day after Christmas. Monday they expected to get to bring her home.

WILLIE BUTLER HAD surgery yesterday in High Plains Hospital. Remember Willie. And she wants you to come to see her.

MERLE FAYE TAYLOR and Gordon Foster were married last week. Both these are 'home town' folks and we wish them every happiness.

MARK MAYNARD MARRIED Phyllis Carole Divelbiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ross Divelbiss of 4619 S. Lipscomb. Mark is Ruth and Pat Maynard's and is engaged in farming and ranching near Happy. The couple plan to live in Amarillo at this time.

CHERIE (HOLLAND) HARVEY and the three girls are in Happy visiting. They came "home" with Gerry and Evans and Larry plans to come after them. Cherie and Larry live near Plains, Kans., now, on a 21,000 acre spread. They are forty miles from Liberal, but right near the river. Cherie says the fishing is good. There are quail, duck, pheasant, and deer. Deer fed in her garden before frost. I can picture all that peace and quiet and almost envy the Harvey family.

OUR SYMPATHY TO the Walker Parker family on the loss of Walker's mother, Mrs. Imogene Parker of Adrian. Mrs. Parker was 73 and passed away on Sunday in High Plains Baptist Hospital. Services were at 2:00 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 1, 1974, at the Wallace Funeral Chapel in Tulia, and burial was in Tulia. Mrs. Parker had been a former resident there.

MRS. PARKER WAS born at Moran. She lived in Swisher County 35 years before moving to Adrian in 1952. She married DeWitt Parker in 1920. He died in 1962. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Adrian and the pastor of that church, Rev. Aaron Mitchell officiated at the services.

SURVIVORS INCLUDE TWO sons, Walker of Happy and E. C. of Adrian; a brother, Van Tate of Bakersfield, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Betty Martin of Dallas and Mrs. Myrle Marek and Mrs. Edna Mote of Tulia and three grandchildren.

OUR SYMPATHY, TOO, to Mrs. Essie Mae Carter, and her family. Essie Mae lost both her parents in the month of December. Her father, Fred M. Cox, died at 5 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 27, in Swisher Memorial Hospital. Services were the following Saturday in the Central Church of Christ in Tulia.

MRS. COX DIED on Dec. 31, 1973. Mr. and Mrs. Cox had been honored in 1958 on the occasion of their 65th wedding anniversary. They had been married about seventy years.

THEY WERE ACTIVE in the First Christian Church and Order of the Eastern Star. Mr. Cox was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

SURVIVORS INCLUDE FOUR sons; a daughter; three brothers; three sisters; 24 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren. Among those grandchildren is Mrs. Duane Stubblefield of Happy and two of the great-grandchildren are Becky Stubblefield and Kaye Lynn Stubblefield.

SAM NEAL BRYAN and Jan Christie Kyker of Abilene were recently married in the Southern Hills Church of Christ of Abilene.

JAN CHRISTIE IS the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rex P. Kyker of Abilene. Dr. Kyker officiated at the marriage of his daughter. Jan is a junior at Abilene Christian College, a majorette for the Big Purple Band and belongs to Alpha Psi Omega and Ko Jo Kai Social Club.

NEAL IS THE son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. Bryan of Happy. Mr. Bryan served as his son's best man. Neal is a graduate of Happy High School, a senior at ACC, a member of the Big Purple Band and Kinsmen Social Club. He was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

THE ALL DISTRICT Football team of District 2-B included tackle, Andy Hand on second team offense and defense; center, Rocky Williams, on offense and linebacker on defense of the first team; End, Bobby Moudy on first team offense and second team defense; Back, Greg Looney on first team offense and second team defense; and honorable mention went to Johnny Payne.

CATHY PARKER HAS been selected to lead the Golden CowBoy Band as Drum Major for the 1974-75 year. Twirlers will be Pam Andrews, Lisa Payne and Becky Stubblefield.

HAPPY JAYCEES ENTERTAINED their wives with a new Year's Eve party at the Jaycee Hall. They also cooked breakfast after they welcomed in 1974.

HAPPY NEW YEAR! And remember to eat more pure, American Beef!

See ya!
Mary Neal

the nation in assessing the impact of the burgeoning Watergate revelations on the Presidency and the nation.

The Canyon School Board purchases a 60-acre tract of land south of Hollywood Road and near Bell Street south of Amarillo for use as a possible site for construction of a secondary school.

University regents say that Dr. Carruth, Dr. Bill Miller of North Texas State University, Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins of Iowa and Dr. Leon S. Pope of Texas A&M, will be on campus to interview for the presidency. The four are considered the front-runners in the race for the seat.

Local service station operators feel the first pinch of the impending fuel crisis as several major national companies cut back their gasoline supplies to local dealers.

Carruth, Miller, Watkins and Pope visit the campus and meet with administrative, faculty and student committees.

School Board members approve construction of an area vocational school on the Canyon High campus. Total cost is to be $502,000 with the state picking up the tab for 53 per cent of that amount.

WTSU vice president Virgil Henson refuses to divulge figures on administrators' salaries to a News reporter. He declares the News can sue him for the figures. The figures are obtained through the Legislative Library in Austin.

A state court of criminal appeals denies a writ of habeas corpus filed by Anthony Martin Zilka, convicted rapist. Zilka came to Canyon from the state penitentiary in February for a hearing on the writ. He was convicted in 1967 of the rape of the three-year-old daughter of his common-law wife.

Fourteen WTSU instructors are informed they will be employed for only one year more due to the drop in student enrollment.

Umbarger and Canyon residents join forces to circulate petitions calling for Buffalo Lake to be kept open for recreational purposes. The move follows reports that the federal Department of Interior plans to phase out recreational activities at the lake.

University regents, meeting on the WTSU campus, tell newsmen they can reach no decision on a new president. Two board members are absent from the meeting and regents claim they want unanimity in their selection.

However, a News source says that Miller and Watkins are equal in support on the board. Regents were split in their meeting, the source says.

Rep. Bryan Poff says that after efforts to get the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to return the $3000 to 15 local businessmen the department has decided not to pay the bills run up by a former Palo Duro Canyon State Park manager.

JUNE — Watkins is named president of WTSU in a regents meeting in Dallas. Watkins, contacted by The News, says he will make recruitment of students his number one priority. He is to report to the campus Aug. 1.

Dr. Vaughan Nelson, WTSU physicist, says he's studying the use of wind energy as a power source.

Canyon School Board members meet with Amarillo board members concerning the Amarillo board's desire to annex 11½ sections of land. Local board members decline to enter substantive discussions on the annexation resisting pressure from Amarillo board members.

Petitions are issued by County Clerk LeRoy Hutton to Umbarger residents calling for a local option election to legalize the sale of alcoholic beverages including mixed drinks.

Marvin Lolmaugh of Amarillo is found guilty of murdering his father-in-law on a November evening in 1972. He is assessed a 10-year penitentiary term but says he will appeal the decision.

The posh Hunsley Hills addition in north Canyon is sold to local entrepreneur A.W. Lair by developer Arch Hunsley for an undisclosed amount. Lair terms the sale the biggest land deal in the county's history.

City Manager George Loudder issues a secret report obtained by The News which says the county is not paying its share of costs involved in a trade of services. The report is a continuation of a feud which began when county commissioners tabled a request to purchase the city a fire truck.

JULY — Umbarger residents vote their precinct wet for the first time in history.

Harvest of a record wheat crop ends in the county and officials say the crop is worth $12 million.

City Manager Loudder says the city is eyeing replacements for the elm trees on city-owned property. The city's efforts come after another summer during which local elm trees are devastated by the elm leaf beetle.

Lack of oxygen kills all the catfish planted earlier in the year in Buffalo Lake for the benefit of sports fishermen. Shortage of rain causes the lake level to go down. Thousands of visitors fished in the reopened lake during the early spring.

County Judge Woody Pond suggests one solution to the plight of a drying-up Buffalo Lake would be the piping of water into the lake from the Lake Meredith aquaduct which runs east of Canyon.

School board members come face-to-face with the high price of foods as they contemplate bids from suppliers for the approaching school term. WTSU economist Barry Duman predicts food prices will go even higher.

Tourism, even with the fuel shortages throughout the country, is on the rise in Canyon during the summer months.

AUGUST — A $1.1 million loan is approved for the proposed new Canyon hospital by the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Dr. Watkins takes over the reigns of WTSU and Dr. James P. Cornette becomes chancellor.

City commissioners grant a $3000 tax exemption to persons over 65 who own homesteads in the city. The decision comes after petitions seeking initiation of a $5000 tax exemption are presented.

Texas A&M officials decide to construct a new large animal diagnostic laboratory in Amarillo rather than in Canyon. The action is the result of legislation passed during the legislative session in Austin, but disappoints WTSU officials who'd hoped the lab would be located on the Canyon campus.

Amarillo promoter Keith Winter is hired to be director of development for WTSU. Winter was head of the Amarillo Board of City Development before assuming the newly-created post at WTSU.

SEPTEMBER — For the first time in three years, the headcount enrollment at WTSU is up. A total of 6504 students register for the fall term, but the enrollment is actually down in full-time equivalents, for which the university receives state funding.

A special committee is formed to study ways to aid Buffalo Lake following a Canyon meeting of more than 100 concerned residents. The committee is to eye methods of bringing more water to the lake and ways of keeping the lake open for recreational purposes.

An Amarillo firm, Reid and Gary Strickland, bids nearly $1.5 million for construction of the new Canyon hospital. Board members accept the bid and vote to issue $1.1 million in revenue bonds to finance the construction.

C. Boone McClure, director of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, tells The News the museum will almost double in size when the university's old library is vacated over the Christmas holidays. The museum is to assume control of the old library building. A new library and science building have been constructed on the campus.

OCTOBER — The News learns the Randall County grand jury is investigating, but the substance or focus of the investigation is not revealed.

WTSU students take out petitions to circulate on campus and in the city calling for a local option election to legalize the sale of all alcoholic beverages including mixed drinks. A group of students opposing the vote also forms plans to counter the petition move.

WTSU regents approve the opening of a continuing education center in Amarillo to offer courses during the second term. University officials eye the old federal building for location of the center, but later learn the building is sold.

Commissioners from Canyon, Randall County, Amarillo and Potter County join together in a loosely-knit organization to meet informally on mutual problems.

The special committee studying Buffalo Lake calls a halt to its meetings to await a federal decision on the 1973-74 budget for the lake management. The committee decides, after reviewing several alternatives, that it should explore the idea of digging deep water wells to get water into the lake.

Canyon School Board members, confronted with a proposition that a citizens committee examine the feasibility and advisability of allowing Amarillo to annex 11½ sections of land, calls for a legal opinion on the annexation.

NOVEMBER — The death of a truck driver at an intersection east of Canyon on Washington Street focuses local attention on the safety of the median which is located at the intersection. Highway Department officials later announce the median is to be removed.

Only 11 per cent of the county's voters turn out for the constitutional amendment election. They turn down a $10,000 raise for state legislators. A total of 3,327 persons vote of the 30,000 registered.

County commissioners begin interviewing architects for a new annex to be constructed in South Amarillo, following purchase of a parcel of land in Amarillo for the construction. Later, a firm is hired to prepare plans for the building.

Dist. Atty. Dowlen says narcotic traffic and narcotic-related crimes are on the increase in the county. His statement corresponds with a report issued by the Randall County Grand Jury which says the Amarillo Police Department is undermanned.

Buffalo Lake is being drained and Department of Interior officials are to make an announcement of the lake's future after the first of the new year.

A $10 million lawsuit is filed in Amarillo federal district court against a number of members of the Amarillo Whittenburg family and the owners of the Amarillo Globe-News. The suit contends the sale of the newspaper was conducted in a fradulent manner.

DECEMBER — Fire destroys the home of the Paul Quintana family and Canyon residents rally to aid the family, donating clothing, food and housing.

Randall County grand jurors call for a reopening of the so-called WT Investigation into allegations of wrong-doing in the university physical plant operation.

The Canyon School Board is presented a petition for 50 acres of land south of Amarillo to be annexed into the Amarillo school district.

Canyon business boomed during 1973, according to figures from local merchants and City Manager Loudder.

$3000 Tax Exemptions Given Initial Approval

Randall County commissioners expressed their intention Monday to allow a $3,000 tax exemption for persons over 65 with homesteads.

Although they did not pass a resolution specifically allowing the exemption, commissioners approved a motion that they will give such an exemption this year. A formal passage of the exemption is expected next Monday when commissioners meet.

County tax assessor-collector Mrs. Audrey Bruse is expected to meet with commissioners before they make formal passage of such a resolution.

Commissioners talked with Sheriff Cliff Longest about the possibility of the City of Amarillo withdrawing from support of the Metro Intelligence Unit, a move recommended last week by an outside consulting firm hired to study the Amarillo Police Department.

Longest said the recommendation "floored some of the men in Metro," and noted that the unit has recently broken some major cases in the area.

Commissioners also decided not to consider a resolution asking the state legislature to investigate the proliferation of regional planning commissions in the state, a move recommended by Dr. Donald Todd and his local chapter of the Texas Association for the Constitution.

Todd appeared at commissioners court Monday and was told by commissioners they believe he should make his presentation to the elected officials of Canyon, Amarillo and Potter County as well before any single unit takes action.

Commissioner Bill Butler, who told Todd his arguments "have some real good points," suggested the West Texas State University violin professor meet with officials from all four governmental units.

Butler said he feels action calling on the legislature to perform such an investigation would have more impact if it came from all four units rather than just one.

"I feel the way Bill does," said commissioner Jim Fletcher. "I'm not satisfied with the overall concept of regional planning although at this point it doesn't make much difference for Randall County to step out. The only way we can keep up with what's going on is to be part of it."

Todd appeared before commissioners earlier in December and called on them to ask the legislature to investigate regional planning commissions, which Todd characterized as part of a "seditious conspiracy."

In other business, commissioners learned they still have a problem in location of a 300-foot radio communications tower for the sheriff's office.

Several weeks ago, commissioners voted to purchase 5 acres of land from the City of Canyon at their dump ground site to erect the tower, which is to be funded by the federal government through the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

But, Longest told commissioners Monday that the five-acre site is directly in the flight pattern of the Can-Am Airport which was recently reopened under new management.

His announcement ended the need for the land purchase, but increased the need for finding other land upon which to erect the tower.

Commissioner Paul Lindsey recommended that Longest and representatives of PRPC examine a site about five miles south of Canyon.

Commissioners tentatively glanced at a list of county employees and their current and projected salaries. Salary hikes and changes in personnel policies will be considered by the commissioners at their Monday meeting.

A 5.5 per cent salary hike has been figured into the 1974 budget for all county employees, including commissioners and the county judge.

Commissioners also voted to pay $18,000 to the City of Canyon on a monthly basis in connection with a contract signed during the fall for sharing of joint service operations.

Buffs Back Tonite, Hosting Hardin-Simmons

West Texas State Buffaloes return from their over two-week layoff to host Hardin-Simmons at 7:30 p.m. today in Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum.

The Buffaloes of new coach Ron Ekker closed their December schedule with three consecutive wins before taking a break for final exams and Christmas.

The Buffalo cagers will carry a 3-1 season record into the contest, while Hardin-Simmons is 3-5 for the year.

The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys fell in their opener to Northeast Louisiana 99-96, but came back to beat Texas-Arlington, McMurry and Boise State. They have fallen in their last four games to Oral Roberts, Oklahoma State, McMurry and Pan American.

Leading the Hardin-Simmons attack has been Gary Crowthers, who has an 18.9 scoring average. In Harvey Catchings, the Buffs will be facing one of the better big men in the Southwest. The 6-9½ senior is rated as a blue-chip professional prospect. He is scoring 15.3 points per game and is averaging 10.6 rebounds.

The Buffaloes, who feature one of the nation's better defensive averages, are led by 6-2 Howard Taylor, the junior college transfer from Como, Miss., who has a 16.3 scoring average. Reginald Ramey, 6-8 sophomore is scoring 16 points per game.

West Texas is allowing only 51 points per game, and that is among the nation's better defensive averages.

The Buffs host nationally-ranked Memphis State Saturday night. Memphis reached the NCAA finals last year before falling to UCLA.

There will be no junior varsity game prior to tonight's varsity contest but Woody Van Dyke's Junior Dribblers will play a game at 5:30 p.m.

The Junior Varsity returns to action at 5:15 p.m. Saturday against Amarillo College. The Junior Varsity carries a 5-1 record for the season, and the lone loss was to the Amarillo College Badgers.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

There will be an Open House in St. Mary's Parish Hall from 2-4 p.m. Mr. Friemel is the oldest member of the Umbarger community. He is still quite active taking care of his garden and large yard. He is the head of five generations. His son Charles, and Charles' daughter, Mrs. Stella Gilmore, and Stella's daughter Theresa Girard and her son David Girard, are the five generations. Mr. Friemel came to the Umbarger community in 1905. He is the son of one of Umbarger's earliest settlers, the late Pius Friemel. Palisades Palaver

By MILDRED TURNER

NEW YEARS GREETINGS:

WE STILL HAVE some Christmas news coming in, so let it come on in.

THE PALISADES LADIES had a covered dish luncheon and Christmas party recently in the home of Beverly Norman. Everyone enjoyed seeing Beverly's house as it had been completely redecorated, and being an artist, she had many of her goodies for their pleasure. They exchanged gifts, mostly their own creations. A reading and a poem were done by Lola Jackson. Others attending were: Marcella Carlile, June Hooker, JoDelle Walker, Lena Edwards, Reba Guess, Becky Guess, Nell Moore, and Dora Waldrop.

THE MOORE FAMILY has been very sick, that is, everyone except Doug. Last Sunday, no one went to church and Doug had to take care of the rest of the family. I am sure he made a fine doctor. The Moores got a new pool table for Christmas, which the whole family has enjoyed. Greg confided to his mother that with practice he is improving. But, the sad part is, that his Dad is improving also. Greg was instructing his Mother on which way to knock the ball, and her reply was "I had to concentrate on hitting the ball first, then on which way it should go!" Some of Nell's New Year's resolutions are: 1. To make the boys learn to keep their rooms. 2. To lose weight (Greg) using reverse psychology said "She'll never make it"). 3. To be a better Christian.

THE LAST I heard of Dora Waldrop, she had not broken a leg! She was up at Idelwild Lodge (not far from Denver) skiing. She said she had learned to fall down. I had a pleasant chat with her horse sitter, Barbara Rhoads. Dora is about the cutest, most active granny I know. She is apt to be winning all sorts of prizes on her racing horses, flying a plane or dashing down a snow covered mountain on a pair of skis.

I TALKED TO Judy Detten this week and she had cooked a big 20 lb. home grown turkey with all the trimmings. Their guests were Joe's parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Detten who are currently visiting in Ponca City, Okla., her sister, Nancy Martin, from Kansas City, the Richard Dettens, KaBeth, Mary Miles, Mark, Brenda and Carol, the Tom Dettens, Cathie, Sherrie and Jaynie, Tommy, Jim Margie, and her fiance Larry Hymer, and of course their own little Debbie, Jodie, Becky, and Lisa, Susy, and Amy completed the dinner party. The Dettens got their den paneled for Christmas and a new color TV. They enjoyed visiting and games. Judy's one big New Year's resolution is not to cook so much, she hinted, and then she wouldn't eat so much.

CAROL AND DAN Bailey had a New Year's Eve party at their home, more details next week.

ON NEW YEAR'S Eve, I had Dana and Brent Bailey and Laura Webb to spend the night with me. We played, watched TV and danced. Dana has three teeth now and is pulling up. Brent is three years old and in the "why" stage. Laura is a first grader and very wise and informative. After I got them off to bed, I watched TV and worked on a quilt.

JANET AND SHEREE took the car and went to church for a special New Year's service. You know how jittery you feel when one of your off spring takes the car for a long trip to town for the first time. I would sew a few stitches, jump up and look out, listen for the phone, sew a few more stitches, peek out again, walk the floor drink a Coke, peek out, look at the silent phone, grab a cookie, sew some more, and peek out again. And just as I was ready to call the Fire Department, Police, ambulance and hospital, they came walking in smiling, telling me what a good service they had with lots of music and singing. They brought in two little guests for the night, Karla Bryant and Sherry Sinclair.

NEW YEAR'S DAY our guests were Belva and J. T. Winters, Carolyn, Brent and Dana Bailey, Danny Mullins, Steve Skidmore and Kerry Kirkwood. We played records, skip bow, and the young people hiked around the Palisades.

TO BE CONTINUED next week with your New Year's resolutions.
